

REMEMBER FROM POV OF MARK TWAIN

Info-

- Twain did not agree with the legislative branch of the time and said quote “Fleas can be taught nearly anything that a Congressman can.”

- Trump impeached - only three presidents currently impeached - the first president that is very legitimate corruption. Other countries involved.

- I have only two minutes to be here, so I am going to make it worth your while as Trump did during his presidential career.
- I have to be honest here, despite the fact he wants to build a wall and keep
- - Trump always wanted to be unforgettable and this was his way of making a big scene for him to be unforgettable.

- How republicans protected him

- Jim Jordan protected him and wrestled Ohio state and the abuse scandal that he did nothing about. Also, add that he protected Trump but didn't protect kids getting abused in college.

- The first line of the republic of Gondor to trump's America now. This is what America has been but now it is a new land or a totally different place. This place we have been living in for the past three years is a fantasy land.

-Wealth exceeds political morals

- Use the curious republic of Gondor is

- Russian scandal and impeachment

- Stick from loyalty to the republicans and what would Trump do that would still make them loyal. Comical loyalty.

- Pick out Twain lines about things I want to joke about

When Amber alert decides to give your car a shoutout ;)

About the impeachment- "I believe the Prince of Darkness could start a branch of hell in the District of Columbia (if he has not already done it), and carry it on unimpeached by the Congress of the United States, even though the Constitution were bristling with articles forbidding hells in this country,"

Jokes:

- Despite being a Protestant, he knows how to get away with touching kids.
- Speaking of a scandal that was never talked about, let's get to Jim Jordan, a professional of turning the camera angle.
- The reason he protected Trump and not the kids is that the only thing those college kids could give him was a couple of ramen noodle packs and an std

Version one

As soon as I had learned to speak the language a little, I became greatly interested in the people and the system of government. Our President is not ideal, but the majority of congress already knew that. Speaking of the impeachment Donald Trump is the third president in American history to be impeached. I didn't want him to get impeached because at least Trump is not Mike Pence. Mike Pence is what happens when Anderson Cooper isn't gay. Stopped here because I didn't get far with jokes.

Version two

Mark Twain once said: As soon as I had learned to speak the language a little, I became greatly interested in the people and the system of government.

Trump's presidency is in trouble thanks to something from Asia that multiplies quickly. No, not Andrew Yang, the Coronavirus.

Trump's stock market took a crap and now there's no toilet paper.

Trump's economy is in such poor health the CDC's quarantined it.

Donald Trump is like the Coronavirus, we don't know why he's causing so many white people to panic.

The Coronavirus spreads like Trump's popularity, primarily by people who don't wash their hands properly.

People are wondering why there's no toilet paper. Trump used it to clean his stock market after it took a massive crap.

Our President is not ideal, but the majority of congress already knew that,

(Insert impeachment joke)

Speaking of the impeachment Donald Trump is the third president in American history to be impeached. That's not a whole lot of disappointments but between all the scandals that Trump has under his belt, I'd say he's making up for it.

Trump's not the only person in congress with a scandal, otherwise how would Fox news still be in business?

Jim Jordan was in a scandal because he didn't speak up about the fact that his fellow wrestling teammates were getting sexually abused. (Insert joke)

But let's think back to now when Jordan is speaking up and sticking up for Trump. Why did he stick up for Trump and not those college kids? Money. That's the root of it. Because let's be honest, the only thing those college kids could give him are a couple packs of ramen and an std.

Trump on the other hand has loads of money, a lot of it probably in Putin's pocket but I guess we're not supposed to talk about that one.

Anyways, that's all the scandals I find mildly interesting, until next controversy!(Punch this up)

Version three- FINAL VERSION

Mark Twain once said: As soon as I learned to speak the language a little, I became greatly interested in the people and the system of government. Donald Trump is our president. This is not ideal but congress already knew that. The Coronavirus spreads like Trump's popularity, primarily by people who don't wash their hands properly. Trump is the third president in American history to be impeached. That's not a whole lot of disappointments but between all the scandals Trump has under his belt, I'd say he's making up for it. Trump's not the only person in congress with a scandal, otherwise how would Fox news still be in business? Jim Jordan was in a scandal because he didn't speak up about the fact that his fellow wrestling teammates were getting sexually abused. If only Jim Jordan was as outraged with this terrible incident as much as he was at Michael Cohen. But let's think back to now when Jordan is speaking up and defending Trump. Why did he defend Trump and not those college kids? Money. That's the root of it. Because let's be honest, the only thing those college kids could give him are a couple packs of ramen and an std. Trump on the other hand has loads of money, a lot of it probably in Putin's pocket but I don't think we're supposed to talk about that one. It's good that we are able to express our opinions and pick fun at things like this, I just can't run into any of these people for the next thirty years, then I'll be good.

Some extra jokes I could've used but didn't cause I had no place to put them:

Harvey Winsetin has caught the coronavirus, prison guards forced him to let it go.
